

Balance Budget By 1954

Rep. Tabor Believes It Is Possible With Fed. Expenses Held Below $65 Billions

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Tabor (R-N.Y.), ranking GOP member of the House Appropriations Committee, said today he believed the federal budget could be balanced in 1954 with total federal spending brought below $65 billion dollars.

Tabor conferred with top ranking advisers to President-elect Eisenhower but did not see the general personally.

When newsmen asked him whether he thought taxes could be reduced next year, Tabor replied: "I would say that question can only be answered after the President (Eisenhower) gets back from Korea."

Tabor, who is expected to head the appropriations committee in the new Congress, said that a reduction to the $65 billion dollar figure depended on cutting military expenditures and outlays for mutual security.

The present budget is 79 billion dollars. Estimates for the forthcoming budget range from 80 to 85 billions.

Tabor conferred with John Foster Dulles, Eisenhower's designee as secretary of state, and Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, who will be the general's White House assistant.

Tabor said he discussed with Dulles the desirability of "getting rid of the lackey running around the world with nothing to do and building up ill will for the United States."

Foreign service salaries are now "as high as we can go," Tabor said, but he added he would not be surprised if some salaries were increased in domestic operations to attract the kind of men needed. Specifically, he said, he had in mind the Departments of State, Defense and Commerce and the Attorney General's office.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, saw Ralph C. Baker, former national committee chairman from Oregon who was one of his key advisers during the campaign, and Harold Talbott of the Republican finance committee. He was reported to be working out further details of the streamlined government, the outlines of which Adams described to reporters yesterday.

Earlier today Eisenhower discussed the future of atomic energy work with Prof. John R. Dunning, dean of engineering at Columbia University. Dunning refused to comment on whether he had been offered a position on the Atomic Energy Commission—which has a vacancy at present.

Eisenhower also conferred with Dr. Grayson L. Kirk, acting head of Columbia, at his home before going to his headquarters.

His schedule for today contrasted sharply with the tightly packed program he has been following since he returned last week to his offices in New York.

Yesterday, he visited the United Nations headquarters, met with the Vice President-elect, Sen. Richard M. Nixon, talked with Benson and Adams and held conferences with a number of business and political figures.

The only appointments fitting that category today were with Lewis W. Douglas, former ambassador to Great Britain and former director of the budget; Harold Talbott of the Republican Finance Committee, and Ralph C. Baker, former national committeeman from Oregon.

Most of the other people on his calling list was described simply as "friends."

Let 'Er Rain

It was nasty underfoot, dismal road about and murky overhead today, just as it was yesterday, but there was little grumbling. The thirsty earth was drinking its fill, at long last, and the drought was certainly not just broken, but ended.

While there were no grumblings over the present status quo, there were many worries over what was to come. Reports of snow storms, blizzards, even just a common Missouri variety of snow prove chilling thoughts to those over 21.

Men Take Pet Duck, Leave Little Girl Heart Broken

Two big, brave men will probably have a little girl's pet duck for Thanksgiving dinner. Quack was just roaming around in his own yard, close to his own house when between 5:30 and 6 p.m. Monday when a car drove up, stopped, turned the light in his direction and two men got out. They had no trouble picking him up—of course—because Quack was a pet.

The little duck belonged to Trudy Jo Harlan, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Harlan, 910 South Missouri. She got him at the Missouri State Fair when he was just a tiny duck. Trudy Jo loved him very much and he loved her. He would follow her around everywhere and when she wasn't around he even had a grand time all by himself. When it rained he was a very happy little duck. He would spread his wings and run around and around the house—he liked the water—so he had been having fun in the rain. Then the car drove up. Inside the Harlan home the dog was raising a fuss. He knew there was something wrong—so he barked and he barked—the family only tried to quiet him down. Next time they will pay attention to him and see what is wrong, but this time he was scolded.

The neighbors saw the blue car drive up—they saw the men get out, pick up Trudy Jo's little duck, get in the car and drive away. They just had time to get the license number—it was an out-of-town car—and the car with Quack in it drove swiftly away.

Trudy Jo is heartbroken over Quack—she thought maybe if the men saw her story in the paper they might bring her duck back—but men who would steal ducks probably wouldn't care about a little girl's tears.

Lions Expand Annual Yule Kiddie Party

Invite Other Groups To Join In Three Big Dec. 23 Events

The annual Sedalia Lions Christmas party for children is being changed into a Community Christmas Party sponsored by other civic clubs and individuals along with the Lions. The party date has been set for Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 23, at all three theatres in Sedalia.

In recent years the party has grown and grown, along with other parties which conflicted with that of the Lions. The Lions have invited all civic organizations, and others, to join with them in giving parties at all three theatres, and by doing so many more children can be taken care of instead of a few at each of several parties.

The Sedalia Police Department is one of the first to join hands with the Lions in this endeavor. The police activity will be carried along just the same with the other groups. Originally they had set aside 10 per cent of the receipts taken in at the Policemen's Ball for the Christmas party, but now this amount is being placed into the community project instead, so as to make it a big affair.

The Sedalia Retail Grocers Association also has indicated it will participate and contribute to the affair, both financially and with manpower.

Orson Potter has been chosen as the general chairman. Subcommittees are to be appointed as soon as the various organizations get together to name their chairman and members to committees.

According to the Lions, which had started the plan, the expansion of the party can be done without too great trouble and at the same time give every organization a better opportunity to carry on the Christmas spirit in entertainment for the kiddies as well as seeing that many more receive Christmas treats.

Rep. Max Myers To Head House Fund Committee

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Rep. Max Myers of Webb City will be chairman of the appropriations committee in the Republican controlled 1953 State House of Representatives.

W. D. Cruce, chief clerk of the House, announced the appointment today for Rep. Lester A. Vonder Schmidt, the GOP choice for speaker.

Myers, who will be 30 years old Dec. 6, is a certified public accountant who has his own accounting firm in Webb City. The 1953 sessions will be his second term in the house.

When he was here last week for the Republican caucus, Myers said he planned some thorough investigating of departmental budget requests if he became appropriations chairman. In the last session, as a minority member, he frequently challenged Democratic claims about monetary needs.

All money bills originate in the House and have to win approval of the appropriations committee, which conducts a series of hearings on the bills.

Announcing the appointment, Cruce said it was being made early so Myers would have a chance to investigate departmental needs and be in a position to "pare off the fat and leave the muscle."

Rep. Fred Ray Columbus, St. Louis Democrat, was appointments chairman for the last two sessions.

Yanks Questioned By Russians Who Caught Them Hunting

BERLIN (AP) — Three American soldiers picked up by the Russians while rabbit hunting were released today after two days in soviet captivity. They said they were questioned sharply about military matters but otherwise "very well treated."

The trio was nabbed in a wooded area on the outskirts of Berlin Sunday.

Koreans Must OK Armistice

Will Not Approve Any Terms Made By UN Against So. Korean Wishes

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — South Korea announced today it would not accept any truce arranged by the United Nations against its wishes. President Syngman Rhee's foreign minister indicated that his government believes Korea's future is nobody else's business.

In a formal statement, Minister of Foreign Affairs Y. T. Pyun said: "The government of the Republic of Korea cannot and will not accept, against its wishes, any arrangement or agreement or resolution in regard to the disposition of what it considers to be its citizens or part of its historical domain, made or reached or adopted without its official and full participation with the unrestricted voice of its sovereign nations usually exercise in similar matters of exclusive concern to themselves."

The statement, which appeared to rule out acceptance of a truce worked out by the U. N. general assembly or the unified command, was made on the eve of a scheduled trip to Korea by President-elect Eisenhower.

Korea has gone all out to plan welcomes for Ike and it appeared that the government would attempt to put this view over with him.

The general has already expressed general agreement with the Truman administration's principles for negotiating a truce.

South Korea is not a member of the U. N. nor is it taking part in the negotiations at Panmunjom.

The South Koreans here issued a booklet two weeks ago strongly denouncing U. N. truce efforts and calling for complete liberation of both North and South Korea and the creation of a U. N.-armed force of two million Koreans.

In a speech to the U. N.'s Political Committee, South Korea's chief observer also said the only end to the war which is government could accept was the liberation of all Korea and the creation of an international demilitarized zone in Manchuria to protect the border.

He denounced all resolutions now before the committee for ending the Korean conflict.

The South Korean statement was issued as U. N. delegates made plans to get priority for an Indian plan on breaking the prisoner of war deadlock. The plans were pushed despite Russia's flat rejection of the Indian proposal.

Joint Chiefs Of Staff Not Ready To Resign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg said today the joint chiefs of staff have not discussed whether they should submit their resignations with the start of the Eisenhower administration.

He made the statement in reply to a question during a chat with reporters at the White House. The Air Force chief of staff added that he was sure there would be no problem if Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower would let members of the joint chiefs know his wishes after he takes office.

Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs, is serving under a term expiring in August, as is Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief.

Vandenberg's appointment expires in June. That of Adm. William M. Fechteler, chief of naval operations, runs until August, 1955.

Vandenberg, who has just returned from a world tour of Air Force installations, called at the White House to report to President Truman. He said he told the President that the morale of the Air Force in Korea is "top," and that in general "there is a looking up in Air Force installations."

Bell System Asks To Issue More Stock

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. asked Missouri's permission today to issue $85,000,000 worth of additional common stock and sell it to its parent company, American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

The proceeds would be used to repay A. T. & T. for advances made toward construction costs in the past five years, Bell said in its petition to the Missouri Public Service Commission.

It also asked for authority sometime in the future to issue and sell $186,000,000 more in securities as the need arises.

Bell operates 750 local exchanges and toll lines throughout Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas plus a small part of Illinois.

The case PSC set a hearing in the state for next Monday, Dec. 1.

First Major Storm of Season Rolling On Toward This Area

Two Judges Hear Cases Here Monday

Judges Hoffman, Blair On Bench In Circuit Court

The November term of the Circuit Court opened Monday morning with Judge Dimmitt Hoffman hearing all but one case.

The following cases were heard: The suit of Lorena Sprinkles against the Guarantee Trust Life Insurance Co. was dismissed, with the defendant paying costs.

The case of Mary Lou Johnson, now Mary Lou Beaman, against Carl Leroy Johnson, was dismissed by the plaintiff.

A suit for divorce by Dorothy Treece against J. R. Treece was dismissed by the plaintiff, as was a divorce suit by Helen Meyers against Allie Meyers.

Barbara Alpert dismissed her suit against Jack Alpert for divorce.

Divorces were granted to Barbara R. Adams from John E. Adams and to Johnnie J. Chapin from Louise Chapin.

Barbara A. Nuzum was granted a divorce from Frederick R. Nuzum Jr., as well as custody of two minor children and monthly payments for their support. Judge Sam Blair heard the case.

The city's charge against George Perkins Jr. of careless and reckless driving, appealed by the defendant after he was convicted in police court, was dismissed by James E. Durlay, city attorney.

Position of sentence was suspended in the state's case against Charles Marvin Shull and Charles Edward Stevens for grand larceny, and they were placed on probation.

Several cases were continued to the January term of court. They were:

The state's case against Lloyd Kindel, appellant, for a traffic violation.

A charge of false pretenses against Don Appel by the state.

The state's case against Everett and Marvin Fox for grand larceny.

A forgery charge against Robert Hunsaker.

The state's case against Nina Long for intoxicated driving, because of illness of the state's witness, Trooper Allman.

A suit for divorce by Robert A. Wagner against Eva Mae Wagner, filed yesterday and charging general indignities. They were married Oct. 26, 1951, and separated Nov. 16 of this year.

A divorce suit against Betty Mae Fowler by Paul Fowler, filed yesterday and charging general indignities. They were married March 13, 1948. Fowler also asks custody of their minor child.

A charge of murder against Charles Neal Ware, Ware was surrendered to the sheriff yesterday by his attorney and bondsman, George Anson, who then withdrew his bond and his services as attorney. Ware is now in the Pettis County jail.

Sheriff John Taylor reported that between Aug. 1 through Nov. 23—the September term of court—the court's fines amounted to $416.

Jap Can't Forget Face of American Soldier He Killed

NEW YORK (AP) — A Japanese war criminal, testifying at the federal treason trial of John David Provoost, says he will never forget the face of a captive American officer he executed.

The Japanese witness, Seitaro Fujita, was called back for more testimony today in the federal court trial of Provoost, charged with war-time treason.

Fujita testified yesterday he and a Japanese officer executed American Capt. Burton C. Thomson of Swea City, Iowa, whom Provoost accused of betraying.

Provoost, 35-year-old Californian, and Thomson were captured by the Japanese when Corregidor Island fell to the Japanese 10 years ago. The government alleges that Provoost went over to the Japanese without delay.

A photo of Thomson was shown to Fujita yesterday, and the Japanese witness made the identification while admitting the execution was the only time he had seen Thomson.

Under cross examination, Fujita gravely said through an interpreter: "This is the first time and certainly the last that I ever executed anyone. Therefore, could I possibly ever forget the face of the man I had to execute? I shall never forget that face."

While the testimony about Thomson was being given, the slain man's younger brother, Eugene Thomson, 30, fidgeted in a front seat.

Later the younger Thomson, a radio newsman from Ames, Iowa, told reporters he had taken a week's vacation to attend the trial because the family "never knew exactly what happened" to his brother. Thomson added that the "wound is more or less healed at home."

Leaders Doubt Truman Will Scrap All Controls by Jan. 3

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration leaders discounted today a report that President Truman was considering scrapping wage and price controls before Congress goes back into session Jan. 3.

Chairman Maybank (D-S.C.) of the Senate Banking Committee said he has information that President Truman is considering ending the controls.

A high price official told a reporter this just isn't so. He said Truman has called for an analysis of the wage-price situation, but "it was not with the idea of ending the controls."

He said "It's sort of a stock-taking project."

And Roger L. Putnam, the nation's economic stabilizer, said "So far as I know, there's nothing to it."

Tight Woods' resignation as head of the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) threw the controls picture into confusion today. Woods announced last night that he is quitting at the end of the month because he doesn't believe the present controls law is working properly.

Truman himself maintained silence on the situation. Woods did not make public his letter of resignation, saying it was up to the President to divulge its contents if he sees fit.

Meanwhile, OPS officials here said they were advised that Milton V. DiSalle, former price chief, will come here to discuss the controls situation with the President.

Major Jabara, First Jet Ace, Back to Korea

SCOTT AIR FORCE BASE, Ill. (AP) — Maj. James Jabara, America's first jet ace, is returning to combat in Korea at his own request.

Headquarters of the Air Training Command here announced today the 29-year-old Wichita, Kas., officer will report to Camp Stoneman, Calif., Jan. 6 for "further assignment to the Far East Air Force."

The beribboned Jabara two weeks ago officially requested return to combat for "completion of a normal tour." The normal tour for fighter pilots in Korea is 100 missions.

He had completed 63—and had downed six Russian MIG's in a six-week period in the spring of 1951—when he was called back for duty with the graduate pilot training division of the Air Training Command. Some of his suggestions have been incorporated into the training program.

"Now that there are enough combat experienced pilots to carry the load in training command," Jabara said, "I want to go back to complete my tour."

Jabara first became an ace in World War II. He was credited with knocking down nine enemy planes over Europe.

Keeps His Promise, Hangs Himself After Wife's Death

WASSON, Ill. (AP) — Valentine Lukancic, 79, had said if his wife, Caroline, died before he did he would be found hanging.

Caroline, 74, died Monday.

A few hours later Valentine was found dead in a shed at their home in Wasson, north of Harrisburg, Coronar J. B. Clark of Saline County said Valentine had climbed a ladder and tied a wire to his neck and rafter. The official said then Valentine shot himself in the temple.

Rain General, Snow Almost Like Blizzard

Nebraska and Central Kansas Get Caught In Big Snowstorm

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The first major storm to hit the Midwest this winter season began developing in eastern Oklahoma this morning the Kansas City weather bureau reported.

Its indicated movement is north-eastward toward Missouri today and the great lakes tomorrow, the bureau said in a special 7 a. m. advisory.

This storm already has broken the drought by producing widespread rain and snow over virtually the entire Midwest and there still is more to come here in the central Midwest, the report said.

Snow, blowing and occasionally blinding, produced hazardous conditions from Nebraska through west and central Kansas and northwest Oklahoma this morning.

"Near blizzard conditions are indicated for a good share of Nebraska and down into north-central Kansas today and tonight," the forecasters warned.

"This along with the probability of an accumulation of four inches or more of new snow in parts of that area makes it advisable for motorists to exercise extreme caution."

At 6:30 a. m. today, Gage, Okla., was reporting heavy snow, blowing snow and northerly winds up to 25 miles an hour. Dodge City, Kas., reported snow and blowing snow, with visibility down to one-half mile and northerly winds up to 35 miles an hour. Hill City, Kas., also had snow and blowing snow with a north-northwest wind of 30 miles an hour and gusts up to 35.

At North Platte, Neb., snow was continuing with temperature of 23 degrees and north wind up to 29 m.p.h. and low drifting snow. At Norfolk, Neb., moderate snow had set in and northerly winds increased to 36 m.p.h.

Excessive rains were reported toward the south, with Ft. Smith, Ark., reporting 1.60 inches in the six hour period ending at 6:30 this morning. West Plains, Mo., reported a total of 2.97 inches since yesterday morning and there have been several reports of more than one inch in southern Missouri, eastern Oklahoma, Arkansas and northern Texas.

Rain was falling all over Missouri today with light snow and much colder forecast for tonight.

The heaviest rainfall reported in the last 24 hours was 2.1 at West Plains.

Rainfall was heavy in the southwest portion of the state in the last 48 hours, with 2.43 inches at Aurora, 1.67 inches at Springfield, 1.9 at Carthage and 1.73 at Joplin.

Thirty highway accidents were reported in this section, including a fatality at Nevada yesterday.

C. C. Williford, weather forecaster at Springfield, said the drought was definitely broken in the Ozarks.

"Every drop of this rain has gone into the ground and it will revive the fall crops," Williford said.

Thunderstorms were expected in south and central portions of the state today. Temperatures generally were mild, but much colder was expected with a drop into the lower 20s in southern Missouri to night.

The coldest reported last night was 21 at Columbia.

Rainfall in the 24 hours ending at 6:30 a. m. today included Hazlegreen 1.55, Marble Hill 1.43, Lebanon and Springfield 1.36, Perryville 1.30, Cape Girardeau 1.26, Mountain Grove 1.25, Potosi 1.10, Jefferson City (36 hours) .98; Columbia .76, St. Louis .48, Kansas City .48, St. Joseph .45 and Rolla .09.

Local Soldier Dies In Action; On Second Tour

Mrs. Orville L. Stout, 1901 West Second, received notice Monday that her brother, Pfc. Paul R. Ford, had died in action in Korea.

Pfc. Ford, who was serving his second tour of duty in Korea, was discharged from the army in 1951 but re-enlisted early this year and volunteered for overseas duty.

The 21-year-old soldier is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Stout, Mrs. Cecil Grandfield, 806 South Merriam, and Miss Wilma Jean Ford, 2604 East Broadway; and three brothers, M/Sgt. Charles E. Ford, Ft. Lee, Va., Pfc. Roy R. Ford, now stationed in Korea, and Francis E. Ford, 1714 South Prospect.

He was wounded in action Oct. 4, but later returned to front line duty.

Guarniere Dies

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Antonio Guarniere, noted Italian conductor who directed at Milan's La Scala Opera and in leading European capitals until ill health forced his retirement five years ago, died today. He was 72.

Rain changing to snow and turning much colder tonight. Wednesday cloudy and cold. Low tonight near 25. High Wednesday near 30.

The temperature at 7 a. m. was 40; at 1 p. m., and 46 at 2 p. m. Rainfall since Sunday night 1.34 inches.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks: 2.3, rise 1.

Red Arms Pour Over Border Of Indo-China

WASHINGTON (AP)—State and Defense Department experts said today Russia-made war supplies are pouring into Indochina over a transcontinental Red railway system protected from Allied air attack because it cuts through China.

Officials said this gives new striking power to Communist forces in Indochina, and presents a new, sinister threat to Burma and Thailand.

Informants said evidence that the Vietminh (Communist) were receiving Russian supplies was found in a recent raid by French and native defense forces on a Communist supply center.

Allied raiders captured 25 tons of Russian-made mortar shells and four Russian "Molotov" trucks with gasoline engines, among other items.

The presence of these 2½-ton trucks at the Vietminh base of operations means that Red forces in Indochina must now be regarded as far more mobile than ever and thus creates a new degree of danger for all Southeast Asia, officials said.

These informants declared that Phu-tho, where the captured war materials were concentrated, is around 400 miles from the Burma border and about 350 miles from the Thai border.

In the raid many other types of weapons and ammunition were also captured, including supplies of French, American, British and Japanese manufacture, as well as Chinese materials.

But interest here centered on the four Russian trucks because of their possible strategic significance. The fact that they are in Indochina at all, responsible authorities said, means that the Red railway line in Indochinese supply routes are functioning against all obstacles.

The last link of the rail line from the Chinese supply center of Nanning in Kwangsi Province, China, to Chen-kuan on the China-Indochina border, a distance of 120 miles, was completed in October, 1951. It was estimated to be capable of carrying many thousands of tons per month to Indochinese Red forces.

But Allied leaders figured that any haulage of more than 80 miles from the rail terminal to various Vietminh supply centers would be highly vulnerable to an attack. The French have uncontested use of the air.

When Allied leaders learned that Red supplies were piling up despite repeated air raids, a large-scale reconnaissance in force, complete with artillery and paratroopers, was ordered a few weeks ago to smash the latest Red operation center in the triangle formed by the towns Phu-tho, Tuyen Quang and Yen Bay.

It was regarded as a highly successful operation when results were analyzed and captured material totaled up a week ago.

Officials here professed to be pleased by the maneuver as they were distressed by the evidence it provided of the flow of Russian supplies all the way across Central Asia, Siberia and China to Indochina.

Industry Seeks Young Men For Work In Strange Lands

NEW YORK (AP)—American industry is looking for young men willing to work in far-off places—Brazil, Iraq, West Africa, the Philippines and other strange and distant lands.

Jobs in foreign trade are going begging, industry sources say.

An indication of this was seen at the recently concluded National Foreign Trade Convention here—a meeting of top manufacturers, financiers, exporters and importers whose farflung trade interests span the world.

Two hundred college students attended the three-day convention as guests of the sponsoring organization, the National Foreign Trade Council. This was the biggest student delegation ever invited to the annual event.

Here's a sample of the advice they got:

An old hand at foreign trade, vice president W. R. Stebbins of W. R. Grace & Co., told the students:

"We've found that men who have been in business for themselves make our best traders. The kind of business they've been in isn't important. The man who has collected and sold waste paper and made a little money out of it may have an easier job of marketing his talents to us."

Basically, Stebbins said, success in foreign trade is "still founded on the age-old copy book rules of business, which do not vary in substance with either place or time."

He emphasized that the college-trained job hunter must be willing to start at the bottom.

"The men in our personnel department have told us that far too many young men with good and thorough academic training approach us with the idea that they are prepared to assume administrative positions in our foreign trade setup.

"This is unfortunate because we don't consider them ready."

What kinds of business offer careers in foreign trade? Practically any "and you can mention. Manufacturers of automobiles, locomotives, agricultural chemicals, chocolate bars and corn plaster, to mention but a few, ship a certain percentage of their output overseas. The larger manufacturers in particular are seeking to hold and expand their foreign markets.

Move Leaves Only 3 Posts To Be Filled

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (AP)—Driving at top speed, President-elect Eisenhower chose Ezra Taft Benson of Utah as his Secretary of Agriculture Monday and then named Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire as his White House Assistant in the new GOP administration.

The general thus moved with history-making swiftness to form the top echelon of his administration before going to Korea in an effort to find a key to peace in that unhappy land.

By giving Benson the nod to succeed President Truman's Secretary of Agriculture, Charles F. Brannan, Eisenhower carried out a campaign pledge to the nation's farmers that he would bring farm leaders into government to help work out new farm programs while improving old ones.

Benson's appointment was the sixth cabinet post to be filled by Eisenhower in five days. He now has named his Secretaries of State, John Foster Dulles; Defense, Charles E. Wilson of Detroit; Treasury, George M. Humphrey of Cleveland; Interior, Gov. Douglas McKay of Oregon; Agriculture, Benson; and his Attorney General, Herbert Brownell of New York City.

The Second Taft Backer

Benson was the second man who favored the nomination of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, Eisenhower's chief GOP convention opponent, to be placed in the cabinet. The other was Humphrey.

The three cabinet posts remaining are Secretaries of Labor and Commerce and Postmaster General.

Benson is a 53-year-old Mormon Church leader, youth leader, and farm marketing specialist who has worked with farmers and farm problems for years. He told reporters he never had met Eisenhower before today but was in agreement with his farm policy statements.

He served for eight years as an economist and state farm marketing specialist for the University of Idaho Extension Service. Since 1944 he has been executive director of the National Council of Farmers Co-operatives. He is a member of the Executive Committee and chairman of the board of the American Institute of Co-operatives, an educational organization for farmer co-ops.

Adams, who managed the Eisenhower presidential campaign, will go into a job that is expected to carry more influence and prestige than any President has heretofore given to an assistant.

Adams To Reorganize

It has been reported Adams will have the task of reorganizing the executive office in a manner to bring about a formal co-ordination of agencies and personnel to replace the rather informal co-ordination that has existed heretofore. The person most nearly his opposite in the Truman administration is John R. Steelman.

Before announcing his new appointments through Press Secretary James Hagerty, Gen. Eisenhower paid a visit to the United Nations General Assembly building and conferred with Sen. Richard M. Nixon, vice president-elect.

He talked privately with U. S. Secretary General Trygve Lie and Lester Pearson of Canada, president of the General Assembly, for 20 minutes—presumably on proposals for bringing an end to the Korean War. But there was no disclosure of the subject of their talk.

Clocks and Watches

Centuries ago, stationary timepieces run by weights were called watches, while only those provided with cloches or bells were known as clocks.

Civic Group Prescribes Police Reorganization

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A re-organization of the St. Louis police department based on a merit system and the election of members of the board of police commissioners has been recommended by the civic commission of the Metropolitan Church Federation.

Present police commissioners are appointed by the governor.

Under the recommended system a board of police managers—headed by a full-time President—would replace the board of police commissioners, whose president also is employed in private business. Candidates for the managers' position would have to prove their qualifications before gaining a place on the ballot.

The plan, under study by the church group since September, was recommended to the Missouri senate criminal law revision committee Saturday. State Sen. Richard J. Chamier heads the committee.

Wheat Continues Its Sharp Drop On Trade Board

CHICAGO, Nov. 25 (AP)—Wheat took up the new week on the Board of Trade just as it had ended last week—going down. Losses of 1½ to 2¼ cents were tagged onto last week's drop of 4½ to 5 cents.

The rest of the market, after a little early shakiness, was inclined to ignore wheat's slump. Soybeans actually scored fair-sized gains after opening with losses running to more than a cent. Feed grains finished mixed.

Wheat closed 1¾ to 2¼ cents lower, corn ¼ lower to ¼ cent higher, oats ¼ lower to ¼ cent higher, rye ¼ to 1 cent lower and soybeans ¼ to 1½ cents higher.

The trouble with wheat was rain and snow. The week-end brought moisture to a wide area of the winter wheat belt, running from Texas up through Nebraska.

This was the main reason for selling wheat and the decline was helped along by the absence of any export business.

At one time corn enjoyed a brisk run-up, some contracts selling as much as a cent above the previous close. This followed a warning by the weather bureau that moderate to heavy snow, accumulating to a depth of from five to ten inches, was indicated for the west and north central portion of Iowa tomorrow.

TV Commentator Just Reports Weather, Doesn't Make It, He Tells Sorosis

Shelby Storck, television commentator on WDAF-TV, Kansas City, told Sorosis members Monday afternoon that he just reported the weather—he didn't actually manufacture it, as people sometimes seemed to think. He told of a woman in Kansas City with a British accent who called him at least once a day and kidded him about the weather report, but he has never seen her. "If you say it is going to be a nice day tomorrow," she would say, "I know it is going to be a perfectly foul one," and added, "I think you could do better in your predictions."

Although Mr. Storck's subject was given as "Just What Is the Latest Weather?", he evidently thought that was the thing everybody else talked about and so he talked about the thing he knew most about—which wasn't the weather. He talked on television. Television, the speaker said, is part of a series of communications that have been developed rapidly since about 1900.

It was fascinating, said Mr. Storck, when television first came into the living room, to see the familiar faces on television and, like many other people, he was a bit worried at first on what effect it was going to have on children. He said that when they first bought a television set, his children no longer wanted to play inside or outside of the home; they just sat and stared at the television picture.

It was very peaceful around the house—too peaceful, he said. The children were depriving themselves of any other kind of amusement, playing baseball, playing in the yard or with things in the house and he was afraid that they would become spongers, soaking up what other people thought and did, instead of becoming doers. But the novelty wore off and they have gone back to playing, along with watching the television, he said.

Mr. Storck said that he looked with misgivings on what effect television would have on the lives of people—in formulating their opinions, especially in politics. A candidate with a nice personal appearance, a good personality through the TV picture could be as vacant as an empty milk bottle. Likewise, one who looked frightened, had stage fright and had the appearance of being stupid on TV may be the most honest and best qualified man anywhere.

"We are going to have to learn to size up characters and their sincerity or we may be electing to office actors instead of well qualified candidates." This will eventually be done, Mr. Storck thinks, this ability of the public to see the real character of the men on television. He told the story of the Kansas City Star reporter, one of the best in the nation, who literally sat on a trunk of blood plasma all the way from Kansas City to Korea to see to whom it was given. When he came back with the story of those whose lives were saved by the 24 pints of plasma he was asked to appear on TV and tell about it. But, said Mr. Storck, he did not look the part of a reporter as pictured by Hollywood. He looked like just a guy. He did not have the personality to sell himself on TV. However, Mr. Storck said he believed he did get the story over.

Then Mr. Storck pointed out the reason: There is no play ever as successful as a real event, no creation or work of art like the experiences of reality, he said.

One thing that television can contribute, he said, is to give people better taste, make them more refined. "We are going to know when we are being sold a bill of goods, know when we have seen a soap opera or a real opera."

The television and radio advertising sometimes, said Mr. Storck, sounds silly. The sponsors make it simple, sometime in jingles and catchy phrases, because the people have so any demands on their time and attention that it must be easy to listen to, to understand. The same thing is true with the programs presented, he said. It depends upon whether you want a program on which you concentrate for entertainment or whether you want something light where you can relax and enjoy yourself. The people want both and the TV sponsors are trying to give them both. There is no reflection on your intelligence, he said, if you want simple entertainment, simple jokes and humor. It is that simple programs are easy to follow and busy people want that kind.

Mr. Storck concluded his talk with an appeal for the blood bank which will be in Sedalia in early December. At one time in Korea, he said, there wasn't enough plasma. Last January there wasn't enough to meet more than one day's needs. In World War II people gave to the blood bank—they thought it was an emergency, said Mr. Storck, and it was, but it is just as much an emergency today in Korea. Even if the Korean war should adjourn tomorrow, he said, it would still be an emergency because it will be needed for defense. We must never let it get so low again. Giving blood doesn't hurt you, the speaker said, except in about one out of every 150 return right to their job—and blood is the one thing that cannot be made in a laboratory, it must come from a healthy body and for every pledge card signed by a blood donor somebody in Korea will be very grateful.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Herb E. Studer, program chairman for the day.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. A. J. Campbell.

Miss Leon Archias Jr. announced that the speaker next Monday will be Miss Jessie Blair, who will give a book review of "Living Ideas in America."

A luncheon will precede the meeting with reservations to be in by Friday.

New Program To Ease Tax Paying Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Bureau has instructed its field offices to make things easier for taxpayers when taxpaying times comes around next year.

Outlining a new program to go into effect from Jan. 1 to March 17, Assistant Commissioner of Internal Revenue Justin Winkle told field officers in a letter made public today that taxpayers must find a "new and improved service" this time.

Winkle emphasized that by tax time an eight-month reorganization of the bureau will have been completed, and taxpayers seeking help with their returns will have "their first real opportunity to observe how reorganization affects them personally."

Tax officials not only expect to give better service but they expect more work. There were some 54 million tax returns last year and the bureau expects from 57 to 58 million this year.

Winkle made these down-to-earth suggestions on how tax offices should help simplify things for taxpayers.

1. Don't close the door in the face of taxpayers just because official office hours are over.

2. Man telephones to answer queries in the evenings, during lunch hours and on Saturdays. All offices to stay open until midnight the last night before returns are due.

3. Put out some chairs and benches for those who have been standing in line and make sure there are chairs for all the aged and infirm.

4. Monitors should be on hand to question puzzled taxpayers before they join a queue and to divide them into lines for different categories of information, so that no one waits in line only to learn his question is being answered elsewhere.

5. As nearly as possible, personnel assigned to information booths and as monitors should be "female revenue agents" and they should be rotated frequently "to avoid the risk of normal irritation stemming from having to answer similar questions over and over again."

C. of C. Board Holds First Meeting Under New President

Weekly sessions of the executive committee of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce are planned by the new president, Claude L. Boul, who called the board members together for the first time Monday afternoon.

At this time Boul announced he was planning seven divisions each of the Chamber under the helm of the vice-presidents.

The executive committee plans to meet once a week, except the week of the regular board meeting, to discuss and make plans for various Chamber of Commerce activities which will then be presented to the board.

Present at the meeting Monday afternoon, also, was John F. Zander, who discussed the program for the military affairs committee of which he is director.

The two vice-presidents were given their assignments, the 14 divisions being divided between them, each to head seven divisions. Bert Hathaway, first vice-president, will have the following board members and their divisions under his jurisdiction: Elmer Adams, agriculture; Mrs. Anna Bagby, civic activities; Robert B. Cain, recreation and education; Miss Eva Evans, public relations; Ray Lipard, conventions and tourists; John Pelham, health and safety; and Chester L. Wolfe, state and national affairs.

The committees under Kenneth U. Love's jurisdiction are: Leon H. Archibair, solicitations; Michael D. Giokaris, industrial development; Maurice F. Hogan, transportation and traffic; Kimmie Miller, membership and finance; Floyd H. Priddy, retail merchants; Neal O. Reyburn, wholesalers and manufacturers; John F. Zander, activities and military activities.

I. H. Reed is an ex officio member of the board.

All directors are in the process of formulating their committees and

President Charles Hanna of the Optimist Club and Walter Kennedy of the Kiwanis Club presided jointly. The latter announced there would be a regular round-table meeting of Kiwanis at the Bothwell Thanksgiving Day noon.

Many Job Openings Overseas for Men In Civilian Tasks

The Sedalia office of the Division of Employment Security has received information from the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, in Kansas City, of the urgent need for civilian workers for overseas employment.

The chief of engineers states that the world-wide construction mission of the corps of engineers is being seriously hampered by the lack of qualified civilian employees.

Employment opportunities exist in Europe, the Pacific Islands, Far East, North Africa, Alaska and other areas. The most urgent need is for qualified civil, mechanical, electrical, architectural and construction engineers and a limited number of administrative and skilled trades personnel.

Current lists of vacancies which contain details regarding conditions of employment, such as salary, transportation and duration of contract, are available in the Sedalia Employment Office, 500½ South Ohio.

Highway Dept. Asking Bids On County Road

The State Highway Commission this week requested bids Dec. 19 for construction and improvements on 34.4 miles of state highways, including Highway 52 in Pettis County and Highway 50 in Johnson County.

The work is expected to cost a total of about $1,740,000, will extend over 37.5 miles of major system and about 16.9 miles of supplementary routes. Major system improvements will cost about $1,500,000 and supplementary work about $240,000.

The major improvements will include the work in Pettis and Johnson Counties. In Pettis County, 13.1 miles of 20 foot bituminous mat resurfacing is scheduled from Windsor east to Highway 65.

In Johnson County, the project calls for 4.5 miles of grading, bridging and 24-foot portland cement pavement between the Jackson County line and Warrensburg. It also includes two relocation, each approximately two miles long, with one beginning just east of the Route 131 intersection and extending west and the other beginning just east of Route 58 junction and extending west.

Also included are bridge replacements over Devil's Branch and Post Oak Creek.

President Charles Hanna of the Optimist Club and Walter Kennedy of the Kiwanis Club presided jointly. The latter announced there would be a regular round-table meeting of Kiwanis at the Bothwell Thanksgiving Day noon.

Billie Davis, Polio Victim, Is Improving

By Mrs. Herbert Hansen
LINCOLN—Mr. and Mrs. Amos Neil, Riverton, Wyo., and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hansen visited recently with relatives at Weston after which they drove to Bedford, Ia., where they were guests of Mr. Hansen's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ulrus Davis. They report their nephew, Billie Davis, is slowly improving from polio at a hospital in Michigan. Billie's parents plan to visit him at Christmas.

Mrs. Grace Swearingin had as dinner guests at their home Sunday her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Swearingin, Wyoming, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Higgins and Janice, Warsaw, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hansen, Denver, Colo., and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hansen.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Koseman and Judy, Bolivar, visited their parents last week-end and told of a near tragedy which occurred at their home when a stove exploded, filling their house with smoke and fumes. Their daughter and the baby of friend, whom they were keeping for the night, were quickly carried to safety. Damage to the interior decorations, furnishings, clothing, etc., amounted to a large sum, but it was covered by insurance.

Rebekah Lodge, No. 822, met in regular session at the IOOF Hall Wednesday night. Following the meeting a social hour was held and refreshments were served. Special guests were 15 members of the Sedalia Rebekah Lodge, No. 260.

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Hedrick and baby, Sedalia, were Sunday guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hedrick.

Mrs. Lee Suhl and Mrs. Alice Hedrick attended the Benton County Homemakers Extension Council at Warsaw last Friday.

Mrs. Sammy Reedy and children and her mother, Mrs. Biggs, all of Windsor, were guests of Miss Jenny Perry one day last week. All enjoyed a trip to Clinton. Miss Perry, who received a serious foot injury in an auto accident, is improving satisfactorily. Her foot is still in a cast, but she is able to walk with the aid of crutches.

Mrs. Harold Griffith, Roseland, visited Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Oliver Dukes and Genevieve. Mr. and Mrs. Claud Powell and Mrs. Allie Baugh and daughter, Hentietta, Windsor, were Tuesday guests in the Lewis and Howard McMartney home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Randolph and son, Darrell, their daughter and family, Hutchinson, Kan., who were here to attend the funeral of their brother-in-law, Lawrence Kreissler, Thursday, spent a few days visiting at their home and with their sister, Mrs. Kreissler. Mrs. Minnie Schenewald has leased her residence and grounds, which she recently vacated, to an Iowa family, and is redecorating three rooms and installing city water.

Mr. and Mrs. Lea Tatum, Warsaw, Mrs. C. D. Brill and Mrs. Henry Stober, were guests at the Fred Kreuger home Sunday. The condition of Mr. Kreuger remains about the same.

Bob Thomas In Hollywood--

Rock Hudson Likes England Despite Unkind Welcome

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (P)—Despite the raps he received on his arrival in England, Rock Hudson has nothing but kind words about his stay there. He even gives a boost to English women.

The husky Hollywood heartbeater recently tied to England to appear in "The Sea Devil" with Yvonne DeCarlo. Upon his arrival, he was blasted by British Equity, the actors' union, for taking a role which an English actor could have played. Hudson and Jeffrey Hunter, another American who was playing in a picture made over there, were both criticized for their invasion of the Isles.

"They made their protest and that's all there was to it," remarked Hudson. "There was nothing more they could do about it. I didn't mind at all. It was good publicity for me."

"Aside from Equity, there was no other unpleasantness. The people I worked with and the English in general couldn't have been nicer."

He did quite a bit of dating, mostly with girls in the picture business. He refuted the American home in Pratt, Kan., following a week's visit with relatives here. Mrs. Willie Davis, 57 near Ionia, who is ill at her home, is suffering with a wisdom tooth, which is attempting to make its appearance. Mrs. Davis has the sympathy of Janice Hansen, 11 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Hansen, Warsaw, who reports that she, too, is cutting a wisdom tooth.

impression that English women are a cool lot.

"They're not," he remarked. "They're a lot nicer to date than American girls. A guy doesn't get the intrigue that women over here insist on handing out. If an English girl is interested in romance she lets you know about it. She also lets you know if she isn't interested. She never keeps you in doubt, as American women do."

"By American standards, the English women aren't as beautiful as Americans. Nor do they have as attractive figures; that's because of the diet they are subjected to. But their skin is the most beautiful I have ever seen."

Hudson found movie making entirely different from the way it is done in Hollywood. His film required 10 weeks of shooting, about half of which was spent on the island of Jersey in the English Channel.

"That's more than twice as long as any other picture I've ever worked on here," said the big boy from Waukegan, Ill. The English picture was his first loan-out; all his other films have been made at economy-minded Universal-International.

Hudson is back on the old lot, this time going through another Oriental exercise called "The Golden Blade." The crux of the story is the cutlery in the title, which is purported to be the Sword of Damocles.

Hudson and I leaned back and watched while his double wielded the sword against an onslaught of villainous soldiers. Then something embarrassing happened. The invincible golden blade snapped off at the handle. Luckily, the prop department was standing by with another.

Reds Admit Arresting 2 Americans

VIENNA, Austria (P)—An Austrian Communist newspaper admitted Monday that the Reds arrested the missing American Field brothers, Noel and Hermann, who disappeared behind the iron curtain three years ago.

Since Noel Field, former state department employee, vanished in Prague in May, 1949, and his brother Hermann, a Cleveland, O., architect, disappeared in Warsaw in August, 1949, one thing has never been clear:

Were they kidnapped, along with Noel's German-born wife, Herta, and his adopted daughter, or did they flee the West of their own free will?

The Communists, in their various "show" trials including the present accusation of Rudolf Slansky and others in Prague, always have contended the Fields worked for the wartime U. S. Office of Strategic Services (OSS) and were American spies. In the West, however, there have been many suggestions that the brothers were double agents and that Noel, especially, worked for the Soviet Union.

It was over this doubtful point that the Vienna Red newspaper Volksstimme today disclosed their arrest. It was wrong, said the newspaper, to call the Fields "American Communists."

"In reality, neither regarded themselves as Communists," the paper explained. "After their arrest, the American State Department voluntarily said they had a special mission."

This as the first time any Communist organ has spoken of the Fields' "arrest."

The State Department frequently has sought information from Czechoslovakia and Poland about the missing pair but never received a satisfactory reply.

Noel Field disappeared after checking out of a Prague hotel, ostensibly to go to Budapest. Hermann Field boarded a plane for Prague in Warsaw but never arrived. Noel's wife, Herta, vanished at the Prague airport while awaiting her brother-in-law's arrival.

Piping hot griddle cakes made with

MILNOT

2 cups all-purpose flour 2 eggs
1/4 tsp. salt 2 cups diluted Milnot
4 tsp. baking powder (1 cup Milnot, 1 cup water)
2 tbsp. sugar 1/2 cup melted fat

Sift dry ingredients together into a mixing bowl. Beat eggs, add diluted Milnot and melted fat. Pour this on dry ingredients and stir only until thoroughly mixed. Bake on hot griddle until golden brown on under side and top is covered with bubbles, then turn and bake on other side. To eliminate smoke, do not grease griddle. To test griddle for the right temperature, use cold water test. If a drop of water forms little balls and dances on griddle, temperature is correct for baking. Makes 2 dozen small cakes.

And so thrifty! Milnot costs less than a canned milk!

Use Milnot for all cooking purposes, as you would use milk, cream, or a canned milk!

Citizen Group Begins Study Of Military

WASHINGTON (AP)—A citizens commission, set up to help the armed services find ways to get more fighting power out of their 3,600,000 men and women in uniform, went to work today with the blessing of President-elect Eisenhower.

The citizens group, holding its first organizational meeting with the full 11-man membership in attendance is headed by David Sarnoff, chairman of the board of Radio Corporation of America.

Eisenhower has heartily endorsed the commission's objectives, set forth in an act of the last Congress which directed the Defense Department to reduce the number of its desk-bound servicemen so that military combat effectiveness could be improved.

Sarnoff actually started work in October, but Secretary of Defense Lovett delayed naming the committee members until mid-November to enable the new administration to have a hand in its development.

Sarnoff has stated that the commission may take one or two years to complete its top-to-bottom study.

Lovett said the first meeting of the commission will have before it for review a number of efficiency recommendations already prepared by the technical staff.

Informed officials said the first proposals for review will have to do with schemes for reducing the number of uniformed personnel, particularly men, in housekeeping jobs.

Sarnoff has indicated commission members will undoubtedly go into the field organizations of the services, both at home and abroad, to follow up plans for getting more men away from desks and into combat capacities.

The commission is made up of six civilians, in addition to Sarnoff, and four retired officers, one from each of the services.

The civilians are the Rev. John J. Cavanaugh, former president of Notre Dame University; Artemis L. Gates, former under secretary of the Navy; Clarence Francis, board chairman, General Good Corp.; Robert W. Johnson, board chairman of Johnson and Johnson; C. R. Smith, president of American Airlines; and Lewis W. Strauss, New York financier.

Military members are Adm. John H. Hoover, Marine Maj. Gen. Merritt A. Edson, Air Force Maj. Gen. St. Clair and Army Maj. Gen. John B. Anderson, all retired.

Wife of Associated Press Writer Dies Of Heart Attack

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Mrs. Heloise Dopking, wife of Associated Press Correspondent Al Dopking, died here last night of a heart attack. She was 42.

Dopking is in charge of the St. Louis AP bureau. The Dopkings were here to attend a meeting of Kansas and Missouri Associated Press members.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

A daughter, Jane, 12, also survives.

Mrs. Dopking is a native of Clay Center, Kas., and a graduate of Kansas State College. She and her husband met in Clay Center where he worked on the Clay Center Dispatch.

While he was serving as a war correspondent in the Pacific during World War II, Mrs. Dopking and their daughter lived at Morganville, Kas. Dopking also was an editor in the Jefferson City and Kansas City AP bureaus before going to St. Louis.

3 Named to St. Louis U. Athletic Council

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Three new members were named by St. Louis University yesterday to its athletic council, an advisory body to the athletic department.

Those named were Dr. William H. Vogt of the medical school, Robert B. Vining, assistant dean of the law school, and the Rev. John F. Bannon, S. J., director of the history department.

They replace Dr. Thomas M. Martin, Alfred F. McKenzie and the Rev. Francis J. O'Reilly, S. J., under the council's regular rotation policy.

Bob Thomas In Hollywood--

Frances Wescott Says Woman Likes to Feel She's Useful

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I think in these times a woman likes to feel useful. She doesn't want merely to have everything handed to her by her husband. If her children are in school and she can afford to hire help, it's natural that she wants to get out and do things on her own."

This was the explanation Mrs. Edgar Bergen gave for doing her first film role. Under her professional name, Frances Westcott, she is portraying Mrs. John Jacob Astor in the film about the Titanic disaster.

But Mrs. Bergen admitted there was another reason. She's tired of living under the shadow of that wooden-head Charlie McCarthy. To her, it's no laughing matter.

"I'm not knocking Charlie, because goodness knows he has helped support the Bergen family in fine style," she said. "But I am a little tired of being referred to as Charlie McCarthy's mother. I want an identity of my own."

Mrs. Bergen explained the extent of her frustration. Recently she joined an entertainment troupe which toured Army camps. She appeared as Frances Westcott, and

Sedalians Questioned In Connection With Warrensburg Car Theft

Three Sedalia men are being held at the Johnson County Jail, Warrensburg, for questioning in connection with a car theft.

The men are Curtis F. Keightley, 37 years old; Fred Gehlken, 31, and Roy Cecil Miller, 35.

Night Marshall Delbert Harmon and William Foster, merchant's night watchman, arrested the three men at 12:15 a. m. Sunday.

The men were kept at the city jail until Monday morning when they were transferred to the county jail prior to questioning by prosecuting Attorney John Mitten-dorf.

The stolen car in question was a 1950 Chevrolet owned by Tommie Black, 331 Christopher Avenue, which was taken from a parking lot by the Hamilton Motor Company, 314 North Holden Street, sometime Saturday night. The car was recovered.

Boys Charged With Starting $80,000 Fire

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Two juveniles have been arrested on charges of delinquency by police in an $80,000 blaze that injured three firemen at a St. Louis transportation firm.

The boys, both Negroes, are 14 and 15 years old. They were arrested yesterday.

Police said the fire was ignited by matches the boys had used while burglarizing the offices of the Be-Mac Transportation Co. Nov. 1.

Childs' Fuss Brings Death To One Parent

QUIN, Mo., Nov. 25.—An argument that started among small children of two families led to the shotgun slaying Sunday of one of the fathers by his next-door neighbor and close friend, Butler County authorities reported.

Dead was Cleasie H. Winberry, 28, father of six small children.

Sheriff Bill Brent said Winberry's neighbor, William J. Hubbard, 33, admitted in a signed statement that he killed Winberry with a shotgun blast after Winberry threatened him. Hubbard has three small children.

The two men, friends for several years, worked together as appliance installers for the Quin general store.

Hubbard, who is crippled with arthritis and lost two fingers from his left hand during World War II, was held without charge in the Butler County Jail at Poplar Bluff, 15 miles north of this town of 500.

The sheriff quoted Hubbard as saying in a signed statement: "Winberry called me from in front of my house and said I had to keep my children from fighting him. I went to the porch and Winberry told me he was going to whip me. He started into my house and I went into the other room and got my gun, a single barrel 20 gauge shotgun which was loaded.

"I told him to stop, but he did not stop and I shot him and he fell backwards out the door. We were good friends and worked together."

The subject of the dispute between the children was not learned.

no mention was made of her relationship to Messrs. McCarthy and Sned.

"But invariably one or more soldiers would come backstage and say something like 'How does it feel to be Charlie McCarthy's mother?'" she sighed.

She recalled with relish her one triumph over the fame of her husband and his dummies. That was when they were in Birmingham, Ala.

"As we stepped off the plane, a reporter from the Birmingham News came up to me and started interviewing me," she related.

"Edgar couldn't imagine what was happening until the reporter explained that I was a Birmingham girl and he was more interested in me than Edgar."

I asked about home life with McCarthy, and Mrs. Bergen explained that Charlie no longer resides with them. He now remains in his suitcase in Bergen's office between performances. The office is handier to the radio studios. Besides, Charlie had to leave the house to make room for the Bergens' daughter Candy.

Previously, McCarthy ruled his own room in the Bergen manse. He had furniture made to his size and stored his fabulous wardrobe in capacious closets. "If I had as many outfits as Charlie, I'd be the best-dressed woman in the world," observed Mrs. Bergen.

Even though Charlie no longer lives with them, his presence is strongly felt by the Bergens. Bergen himself always talks of Charlie as though he were a real person. The illusion is also felt by his wife.

"Of course, I don't think of him as real, as many of his fans do," she remarked. "But it's a strange thing—although I have seen Edgar perform with Charlie hundreds of times in all parts of the country, I still watch Charlie when he is talking. It just seems natural that the voice is coming from the dummy."

Oddly enough, the only Bergen who isn't taken in at all by the ventriloquism is 5-year-old Candy. "I guess it's because she has been around Charlie all her life," said Mrs. Bergen. "But whenever she hears Charlie on the radio, she says, 'That's Daddy doing that.'"

Men Caught With Safe And Cache of Drugs

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Two men from Kansas City were picked up by Springfield police early today in possession of a 400 - pound safe and a quantity of narcotics taken from a Springfield drug company.

Police Lieutenant Leonard Thomas identified the two as William Reese Johnson, 33, and Fred Charles Riley, 43. Both, he said, have previous prison records.

The two men were picked up in an automobile on the outskirts of Springfield, Thomas said, after the night manager of a hotel had noticed two men roll a safe from a drug company located inside the hotel building.

Thomas said no value had been placed on the narcotics and police had not yet determined if the safe was opened.

He Spent 3 Cents For His Campaign

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Circuit Judge W. C. Mayfield reported an expenditure of just 3 cents in filing his report of "campaign" expenditures with the circuit clerk in the recent general election.

The money, said Judge Mayfield, purchased a stamp for the letter in which he notified the secretary of state he wished his name on the ballot.

Guard Dies From Effect Of Gas Bomb

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 25.—A guard, who killed a respected businessman turned bandit in an attempted armored money truck robbery, died here today.

Thomas F. Doerflinger, the 24-year-old guard, suffered fatal ammonia burns of the face and lungs during the daring holdup attempt robbery, died here Monday.

Doctors said he died after a form of pneumonia developed.

The holdup man, later identified as Jacob R. Katz, head of an ice cream store chain, sent a stream of gas from a home-made bomb through an opening into the truck's locked money compartment.

Doerflinger, on duty alone in the truck, drew his pistol and fired five shots through an opening in the rear of the truck cab, killing Katz.

What turned the 45-year-old Katz to the attempted robbery is still in dispute. A regular church member and father of three children, Katz owned a spacious home in suburban University City and was president of the Reed Ice Cream Stores.

Members of the Katz family, through attorney Joseph Chused, said: "It is the opinion of the family that there is no question but that he (Katz) had a mental crack-up. Neither do I find from a preliminary examination any indication of financial trouble in the business."

A sister, Mrs. Ethel Levenson of Omaha, Neb., said Katz had borrowed money to buy the ice cream firm and had been hard pressed to repay the loan. She said he worried about the debt.

Police announced today they had found a missing truck owned by the ice cream firm. The truck, which contained a number of heavy tools, was found parked on a street about four blocks from the attempted holdup scene.

Police said they believed Katz planned to transfer the money from the armored truck into the ice cream truck. The tools could have been used to break open the money compartment of the armored vehicle.

Board Refuses Parole Request By Alger Hiss

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The Federal Parole Board Monday voted unanimously to reject Alger Hiss' bid for freedom.

The board rules that Hiss, 48-year-old former State Department official, must remain behind prison bars until he completes his five-year sentence or until the board may decide to review his case favorably sometime in the indefinite future.

Board Chairman Dr. George C. Killinger said the board reached its decision "after a careful consideration of the official record."

It would have required approval by three of the five board members to grant Hiss' request for parole.

Hiss was convicted on Jan. 25, 1950, on charges of lying under oath when he swore before a federal grand jury that he had never passed secret government documents to Whittaker Chambers, admitted courier for a prewar Soviet spy ring.

Services Work-Out New Draftee Tests

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The military services have worked out new tests of mental ability and aptitude to give to draftees and volunteers.

The Defense Department announced today the new tests will go into use Jan. 1. A spokesman said they include more questions relating to basic mechanical ability than do the present tests.

He said one aim in the new tests is to make it more difficult for a man to fail deliberately. There have been complaints in Congress that too many physically fit draftees were being rejected for failure to pass the mental and schooling test.

The passing grade of 70 will remain in effect with use of the new tests.

The Defense Department also announced that in the future special tests will be given to women applicants for enlistment.

Senator Says Price Limits Stopped Pre-Korea Inflation

WASHINGTON.—A Senate House committee declares price controls had been a "major factor" in stopping "hectic price rise after the outbreak of war in Korea."

The joint Congressional Committee on Defense Production, in a report surveying price trends of the last 2½ years, credited governmental action with a major role in halting "rampant" inflation.

It cited evidence, however, to show that inflation still was a serious problem to the nation's consumers.

The report was approved last week at a session of the joint committee, headed by Sen. Maybank (D-SC).

The report was completed Oct. 22, before the national election, but a committee staff member said its release was held up because some said they could not study it adequately during the campaign.

The committee's report noted that the "national economy has operated under restrictive controls" for 18 months and added:

"During that time significant progress has been achieved in mobilizing the nation's resources for defense."

"The nation's industrial capacity is greatly expanded. Defense factories are in high gear. The domestic economy is far stronger. People have more money and are spending it. There is now a good supply of all important types of consumer goods available."

"And, foremost, the public's confidence has been restored."

"This was accomplished by direct and indirect controls with higher taxes helping to reduce the consumer purchasing power with which to bid up prices."

The committee said American consumers now are paying "billions of additional dollars annually" because of the delay in imposing price controls after the Korean War began June 5, 1950. The curbs went into effect on Jan. 26, 1951, seven months later.

The report pointed out that spot market, wholesale, and consumers price indices now are about 10 per cent above the level of June, 1950.

India Urges Ike To Visit Country

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—"Strong recommendations" have been sent to U.S. President-elect Eisenhower that he visit India enroute home from Korea, it was reliably learned here today.

These recommendations, from a high diplomatic level, argued that such a visit would end apprehensions among the Indians that the Republican victory foreshadowed a change in U.S. policy toward this country.

USAF Accuses GI Of Selling Data To Reds

TOKYO, Tuesday, Nov. 25.—The Far East Air Forces said S. Sgt. Giuseppe Cascio, 34, Tucson, Ariz., was charged today with conspiring to sell military intelligence to the enemy.

The sergeant was charged in 16 counts of accepting military payment certificates from a Korean civilian while stationed in Korea.

The Air Forces charged that Cascio received classified secret data from S. Sgt. John P. Jones of the headquarters squadron. It said Air Force doctors had declared Jones insane. No charge was made against Jones.

Cascio was arrested Sept. 21 in Korea after a six-week investigation, the Air Forces said.

He is charged with violating Articles 80, 81 and 134 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice, dealing with classified information, and Article 92, pertaining to transactions in military script.

The maximum penalty possible is life imprisonment.

GOP Plans to Woo Southern Senators

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Eisenhower's top advisers have hatched smart strategy for dealing with Democrats in the Senate. Through it, they expect to control a majority of Southern Democrats in the Senate for at least two years, possibly longer.

Their strategy is to play ball with the Southern Democrats and not attempt to build up the Republican party in the deep south. Ike-advisers figure that if they butter-up men like George and Russell of Georgia, Eastland and Stennis of Mississippi, they will cooperate on Eisenhower's legislative program.

However, they will employ a completely different strategy in the border states, plus Florida. For in these states — Kentucky, Tennessee, Maryland and Oklahoma — Eisenhower either rolled up sizable margins or won.

In these states, therefore, Republican strategy will be to organize locally as diligently as possible with the hope of making them definitely Republican in the next election.

But in Virginia, where Eisenhower will seek to keep the favor of Senator Byrd's friends, and in the deep south, GOP strategists figure that Democratic senators think and vote pretty much as Republicans anyway, so the best strategy is to court their favor.

Mac And Dwight
It's just leaked out that the only man who can talk turkey to General MacArthur and get away with it — General George Kenney — made an eleven-hour plea to the proud MacArthur to let bygones be bygones and endorse his former military aide, Dwight Eisenhower, for President. But MacArthur shook his head, sat sullen and silent in his Waldorf Tower until the last election returns were in.

Only a few insiders know about General Kenney's last-minute appeal, which he made three days before the election. He was put up to it by New York's governor Tom Dewey, who had already tried to win MacArthur over to the Eisenhower bandwagon through GOP stalwarts as ex-President Herbert Hoover and House Leader Joe Martin. Both had failed to heal the old rift between MacArthur and his onetime aide. However, the man who has always been able to tell off Eisenhower and still make him like it, is the runt-sized, weather-beaten Kenney, MacArthur's air commander in the South Pacific. So Dewey dispatched the retired air force general to MacArthur's Waldorf Tower apartment to make a final appeal.

"Boss," urged Kenney, "why won't you come out for Eisenhower?"
MacArthur spoke grandiloquently of his obligation to his loyal followers who were still supporting him for President.

"Those California radicals," snorted Kenney. "If you string along with that gang, you couldn't be elected dog-catcher."

The blunt-talking air force general argued, pleaded, and cajoled. "Look," he said, "it's only a five-minute walk from here to Eisenhower's suite at the Commodore."

"And it's only a five-minute walk from the Commodore here," replied MacArthur.

That ended the conversation. Probably the breach between the two men now never will be healed.

Cabinet Notes
New Attorney General Herbert Brownell, writing as guest columnist for the Washington Merry-Go-Round Aug. 23, 1948, said: "The inside story from Republican leaders is that the Republican party will win control of Congress in 1946. Put that down as one of this column's predictions of things to come." ... Brownell, then chairman of the Republican national committee, proceeded to make his prediction come true. ... Brownell began politics as Tom Dewey's successful campaign manager in the race for governor of New York in 1942, has been close to him ever since, watched Dewey's racket clean-up in New York, should do an equally good job in cleaning up federal corruption. ... Brownell is one of the closest men to Eisenhower, was given the job of handling patronage. Will fly with Ike to Korea. At the Chicago convention novice Eisenhower leaned on Brownell heavily, used to say: "What do we do next, Herb?"

George Humphrey, new secretary of the treasury, is the nearest thing to an Andrew Mellon since Mellon himself ran the treasury. Humphrey is chairman of the Mellon-dominated Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co., one of the biggest in the world; also heads the Mark Hanna Co., a Great Lakes ore concern; the Iron Ore Co., of Canada and the Industrial Rayon Corp. ... Though a tough trader, Humphrey once helped give John L. Lewis a record 45-cents-an-hour wage increase, plus welfare fund for the United Mine Workers shortly before the 1948 campaign year. Some critics said he was trying to swing the miners over to the GOP.

One of the first things new Attorney General Brownell will have to do is handle an antitrust suit involving one of his cabinet colleagues — Charles E. Wilson. It's the huge monopoly suit against the Duponts, also involving General Motors and U. S. Rubber. ... Organized labor now sings the praises of new Defense Secretary Wilson. His escalator, cost-of-living contract with the United Auto Workers not only made history but increased the prestige of U. S. labor-management relations around the world. ... Senator Cabot Lodge, Ike's original campaign manager, wasn't unhappy about not being Secretary of Defense. He and Eisenhower both felt that he lacked executive experience, was better suited to be roving ambassador or a Harry Hopkins. ... John Foster Dulles will change few officials in the State Department. Despite McCarthy's charges most State Department officials

Pick Comes As Surprise To Utah Man

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 — (AP) — Ezra Taft Benson, named Monday by President-elect Eisenhower to become Secretary of Agriculture, pledged himself to "do my best, God being my helper."

A leader in farm co-operatives and a supporter of Sen. Robert A. Taft before the Republican National convention, the 33-year-old Salt Lake City man said his appointment came "as a great surprise to me."

He said he had not talked with Eisenhower either personally or by telephone before today. Asked if Taft had recommended him for the cabinet post, he said: "You will have to ask Gen. Eisenhower about that."

Benson, former executive secretary of the National Council of Farmers Co-operatives and also a high official of the Mormon church said he was "in general agreement with Gen. Eisenhower's farm policy statements."

He Likes GOP Farm Plank
He said he also agreed with the Republican Party platform on the subject. He declined to discuss specific farm programs, except to say that generally he favored some price supports.

A onetime livestock farmer himself, Benson said that recently he has been "spending most of my time" in work as an official of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (Mormon).

He is a member of the church's high-ranking Quorum of the 12 Apostles, and was named president of its European missions in 1946.

A farm-born native of Whitney, Idaho, Benson was graduated from the Utah State Agricultural College, and has a masters degree in animal husbandry and marketing from Brigham Young University.

He Ran Own Farm
He ran his own livestock farm at Whitney for six years, served a year as a county agent, and for eight years was the extension economist and marketing specialist at the University of Idaho.

Then, in 1939, he became executive secretary of the National Council of Farmer Co-operatives. Since 1944, he has been executive director.

He also is board chairman of the American Institute of Co-operatives, an information agency on farm co-ops, and an executive board member of the Boy Scouts of America.

Benson served as an American delegate to the International Conference of Farmer Organizations in London in 1946.

have long been Republican or career men.

Reclamation or Balanced Budget
New Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay, now governor of Oregon, will have a tough problem dumped into his lap right after he takes office Jan. 20.

In the Truman budget being sent to Congress just a few days before, there will be listed a large number of important reclamation and waterpower projects of vital importance to the Far West.

This is the type of project which McKay, as governor of Oregon, has favored. For on the whole he has been an advocate of public power, irrigation and reclamation. Yet, as a member of the Eisenhower cabinet pledged to cut the budget, he may be called upon to cut these important western projects.

The program which the retiring Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman is taking pains to put in the budget includes:

The Klamath River project, which rises in Oregon and whose waters will be used for reclamation extending all the way through California down to the Imperial Valley. This is one of the most important projects in the entire west. Total cost — $3,293,050,000.

The Kings River project (North Fork) in central-southern California — estimated cost $196,300,000.

The Sacramento Canals — Providing for more California irrigation by diverting water from the Sacramento River and the Trinity River. Total cost $104,510,000.

The Trinity River project, also in California. The estimated cost based on 1951 prices — $207,334,000.

The upper Colorado River project benefiting Utah, Colorado and part of New Mexico. Estimated cost $1,139,100,000.

These projects are sure to attract the pruning knives of Senator Taft and eastern Republicans pledged to cut the budget. However, Senator Knowland of California, a staunch Ike-supporter, and the new Secretary of the Interior will be under terrific pressure to start the construction which the Truman administration proposes.

Murder she yelled

By Joseph Shellit

XXXII
BREAKFAST over the next morning, I was still feeling queasy about the letdown I'd gotten from Dave Fields, but everything around High Hill had a strong urge to get back to normal.

The dining room waiters were planning a water carnival, some girls were getting up a bicycle outing. But I sat beside Al Kemmer's desk and stared at his chair. And it was as if in a dream that Kitty Lane appeared and silently moved to his chair and sat down in it.

"First thing, I want to go over the financial records," she said. "Where are the bank statements and things like that?"

I stood up, I walked around, prodding my brain into motion. There was something wrong about all this. Werent these formalities that had to happen first—probate, court order?

But I knew a phone number that would give me a quick answer to all that. "Excuse me, Kitty, I'll be back in a couple of minutes," I said.

I walked across to the rec hall and went upstairs to the phone booth. I put in a long distance call to Alex Craig, an old high school classmate of mine who had become a well-heeled Philadelphia lawyer.

His high, excited voice splattered a greeting into my ear. "Some free legal advice, if you have a moment," I said. "Shoot, chiseler."

"Is there such a thing as an oral will?"
"There is. A noncupative will. 'What's that mean?'"
"It's not written down." Lawyers have to talk technical even when they're not getting paid for it.

"I'll tell you the situation. A man—call him Mr. A—is critically injured. He's never made out a will. Just before he dies, he tells Mr. B he wants the estate to go to some third party. Now, what do you have to do to make that legal?"

"Is anybody present beside Mr. B?"
"No."
"For a noncupative will to be valid, there have to be two witnesses. Furthermore, the amount of the bequest can't exceed $500. At least, that's the law in this state."

"Then who gets the man's property if those conditions aren't met, and there aren't any known relatives?"
"The good old Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, son."

Kitty greeted me with a frown. "How do you open this safe?"
"Search me," I said.

"There must be a note of the combination somewhere."

I watched Kitty prow around the room. I watched her lithe, firmly muscled arms. Yes, she could have handled that ax, I thought.

Al's behavior, the hints that he'd like to junk her, could easily have been enough to set her off. She would have brooded and fumed, and halfway through the night, she might have charged out of her room and hunted him down and bashed him—hitting Eddie to get him out of the way, or just accidentally. . . .

A hand slammed the desk. "Are you going to pay any attention to me?" Kitty yelled. "Do you want me to start my first day by firing you?"

It was too much. "You might as well hear it now as later. You're not the owner of this place. You're not inheriting a thing—not the fuzz on the grass."

I waited for the explosion. What came was a slow burning stare. "I just phoned a lawyer friend of mine," I said. "He told me a will. Just before he dies, he tells Mr. B he wants the estate to go to some third party. Now, what do you have to do to make that legal?"

"Is anybody present beside Mr. B?"

word-of-mouth will won't stand up."
"You don't know what you're talking about!"
"Okay, wait till you get it officially."

"Get out of here."
"Don't be silly. I just explained: you're not boss around here. I think it'd be a better idea if you got out yourself—you're only messing things up. Why don't you go to your room and rest it off?"

Abruptly her face weakened. Part by part gave way—even her engraved eyebrows got a crumpled look. She lifted herself out of the chair. "I'll fix you for this."

I went to the side window and watched her go across the cinders toward Chicken Alley.

A question hammered at me: If Kitty had slugged Al, would he have tried to leave her his dough in his dying moments?

And there was another question. A touchier one. A question that seemed to have been poking at me for some time without my paying attention: Why had it taken Eddie so long to report what Al had said?

It was a funny thing. Eddie hadn't said a word about it when Healey quizzed him the night of beating. . . .

I SNATCHED the phone off the window sill and called the hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Fields had already left, the reception clerk said.

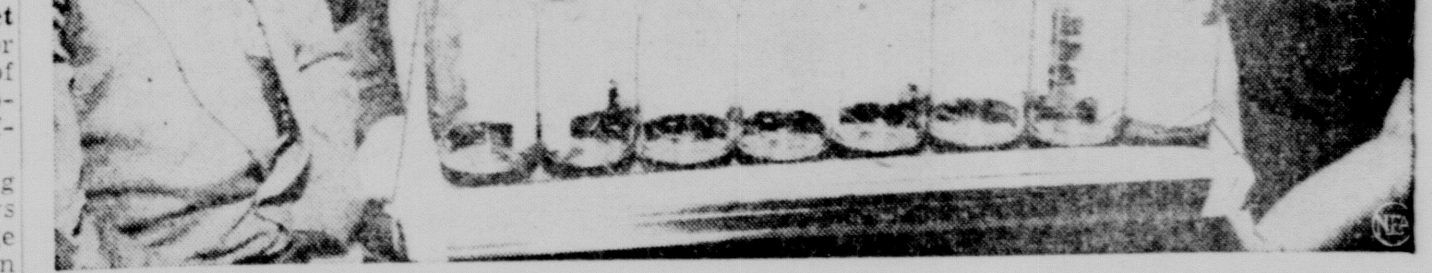

"This is Sergeant Morrison—" I said, "special investigator, State Police. I want you to look at your visitors' record."

"You mean the sign-in sheet, sir?"
"That's right," I snapped. "Yesterday. Tell me the names of any visitors Mr. Fields had before 2 p. m."

"Oh, none, sir—visiting hours start at 2."
"I know that. Wasn't there anybody before that?"
"Oh, wait a minute—I'm sorry—someone did go up at 8:30 a. m. on a special pass. Katherine Lane."

"What?"
"We sometimes let a visitor in that early if it's important."

New School Bldg. Opened At Blackwater

By Mrs. M. R. Gillespie

BLACKWATER—School opened Monday, Nov. 17, after being closed for several weeks because of no heating. The new well has been completed, the steam heating system installed, the old building has been re-modeled, a new gymnasium, new kitchen, rest rooms built and other improvements made.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Park and son, Max, of Warrensburg visited the first of last week with her mother Mrs. Linnie Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schuster had as dinner guests Sunday: Mrs. Laurence Kreuger of St. Louis, Mrs. Sam Loganbill of Booneville, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Schuster and daughter, Nancy, Columbia.

Mrs. Earl Schuster, Mrs. Kreuger and Mrs. Loganbill were members of the same graduating class in nursing at St. Joseph Hospital, Booneville. They graduated in 1930. Mrs. Kreuger will be remembered as Miss Thelma Baer and Mrs. Loganbill as Miss Verna Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. Harty Woodward and children of Kansas City spent the weekend with his father, A. J. Widel, and daughters. Additional dinner guests Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Esser.

The Blackwater P. T. A. met Tuesday evening, Nov. 11, in regular session. Because the new heating system had not been completed at the school building, the meeting was held at the Federated Church.

Mrs. Warner F. Wing, president, called the meeting to order and led in the Thanksgiving prayer. Mrs. Elbert Sprigg, vice-president, introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. W. H. Brown of Central College, Fayette, and pastor of the local Methodist Church. His message was inspiring as well as educational.

It was voted to buy a stage curtain and to start money making projects, the first to be serving a banquet to the Rotary Club of Booneville. Mrs. Fritz Schupp and Mrs. C. C. Alley gave reports on the Missouri Congress of PTA held in Kansas City recently.

The last stanza of "America," served as the benediction. The next meeting will be held in December at the new school building. A covered dish supper will be served.

A Democrat class ad will do it. Phone 1000.

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY

Tighe Woods Quits As US Price Boss; Weak Law Blamed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Tighe Woods resigned as government price stabilizer Monday saying he would rather quit than try to administer a "weak" price control law.

"I think the law needs a thorough overhauling," he told a news conference.

He said he had submitted his resignation to President Truman and asked that it become effective at the end of the month.

Woods, 42, has been price boss since Sept. 1 when he succeeded Ellis Arnall, former governor of Georgia. Before that he served as rent controller. Even if Woods had decided to stay on in the Office of Price Stabilization he would have been subject to replacement by the incoming Eisenhower administration.

Woods said he thought Congress would vote a new program of direct controls when the present law expires April 30. The present one was enacted last summer, several months before Woods took the OPS job.

"Congress should take out some of the special interest amendments and substitute for them some equality of sacrifice," he told his news conference. "I hope the Congress members will look at it from all sides so that every one should share an equal burden."

Inaugural Parade Ticket Prices Up to $3 to $15

WASHINGTON (AP)—Even the prices of tickets for the President's inaugural parade are going up. The parade tickets more or less went on sale yesterday, at a price of around a third more than they cost four years ago. People paid from $2 to $10 for a seat to see President Truman ride by. It will cost from around $3 to $15 to watch President Eisenhower.

Most of the increase is due to taxes. Four years ago the parade committee either forgot—or didn't know about—the amusement tax. They later had to cough up 20 per cent of the gross for the tax collector.

This time the tax will be added to each ticket.

The reason prices haven't been set definitely: The bids haven't been let for the erection of temporary stands, so no one knows the cost.

Harrison Bill Cited

One special interest provision in the law, Woods said, is the Harrison Amendment exempting fruits and vegetables from price control. This amendment became effective last July 1.

Woods told Congress last week that canned fruits and vegetables have advanced 3.1 per cent since July and that fresh fruits and vegetables have also begun to rise in price.

Another amendment to which he objected, Woods said, is one prohibiting the federal government from setting ceilings any lower than those established by state regulatory bodies.

Woods said he does not plan to make any recommendations to Congress before leaving office, but that if he is asked to help draft a new law he will be glad to oblige. Meanwhile, he said, he will spend some time on his farm between Hillsboro, Va., and Harper's Ferry, W. Va.

Woods signed an order earlier today removing wholesale price ceilings on pork.

He also authorized a relaxation of restrictions on new slaughterers of livestock, permitting them to enter the trade merely by registering with the nearest OPS office and obtaining a registration number.

Meat Prices Hard To Move

Advance information indicated that Woods will not be able to roll back retail meat prices, a move he has had under consideration for some time. A study of retail price trends, it was reported, shows that they have kept in line with slightly declining wholesale costs, and that a rollback would not be justified.

OPS chiefs had been instructed to draft a rollback order by today or give Woods the reasons why it could not be done. He said his aides had asked for another 48 hours to analyze additional information from field offices, and that he hoped to be able to make a decision Wednesday.

'Dresser Drawer' Murderer Pleads For New Trial

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A 30-year-old ex-soldier serving a 99-year murder sentence left his cell in the Missouri State Prison yesterday to plea for a new trial in the 1948 slaying of a 21-month-old boy.

The former Cincinnati serviceman, William N. Pollard, pleaded insanity during a hearing on a writ of error under which he hopes to gain a new trial. Circuit Court Judge James E. McLaughlin to the matter under advisement.

Pollard, sentenced in 1949, pleaded guilty to a charge of second degree murder in the original trial. He admitted bringing the infant, Joseph Nichols Jr., to St. Louis from his Huntington, W. Va., home and stuffing his body into a dresser drawer at a hotel after criminally attacking and killing the child.

Pollard was a friend of the child's parents.

Mark Hennelly, attorney named to represent Pollard, argued that the court was not aware of all the facts when Pollard was sentenced. He said Pollard had been discharged by the army for reasons of insanity and had been a mental patient. These facts, Hennelly said, were not introduced as evidence.

If the writ is granted and the 99-year sentence set aside, Pollard will face trial on a murder charge, but will be able to enter a plea of innocence by insanity. Pollard is serving his sentence at the state's Jefferson City prison.

Smith-Cotton High News—Future Teachers of America Chapter Started at S-C HS

By Miss Ruth Maurine Hoffman

A group of students met Monday afternoon at Smith-Cotton High School in order to form a Smith-Cotton chapter of Future Teachers of America.

The Future Teachers of America is a nation-wide organization of high school students interested in learning more about the teaching profession. The organization is affiliated with the National Educational Association.

Miss Edna Snell, who will be the faculty adviser for the chapter, discussed projects which might be carried out by the club. Forrest Drake, Smith-Cotton principal, spoke to the group on the advantages of teaching.

Officers were then elected. They are: president, David Lingle; vice-president, James Cable; secretary, Delores Gorsett; treasurer, Mourine Hoffman; sergeant-at-arms, Tom Ferguson; parliamentarian, Don Barnes.

Next the president appointed a committee to draw up the by-laws of the club. Members are Carl Mathews, Catherine Drake, Bill Hammond, Melvin Jones, Marvin Bohon, Delores Gorsett, James Cable and David Lingle.

Major Airlines Plan Expansion of Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—The major airlines plan a broad expansion of their air-coach services this winter and next spring, the Air Transport Association said today.

At a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing recently on nonscheduled airline operations, the scheduled airlines opposing expansion of regular operations announced their plans for broadening the lowfare field.

The total of their plans indicated that air-coach service would be increased from about 15 per cent to more than 50 per cent of all their flying operations.

ATA said 10 airlines now operate coach services. In 1951 these amounted to 7.3 per cent of their passenger service and 12.3 per cent of the passenger miles flown.

St. Louis Republican Committee Announces Expenses of $74,596

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Republican Central Committee of St. Louis County yesterday filed a report of $80,300 in contributions and expenditures of $74,596 for the recent general election.

More than $26,000 of the amount received was credited to county employees.

The AFL Labor League for Political Education also filed a campaign report yesterday, listing expenses of $5,481 and net receipts of $3,886. Some of the receipts had been carried over from previous campaigns.

Rep. Frank M. Karsten, Democrat from the First Congressional District, listed expenditures of $1,574 for his successful campaign for reelection.

EVERY YEAR... FUEL SYSTEM

RUST gets 1 car in 4

STOP RUST in your car

Did you know that car owners using ordinary gasoline are paying an estimated $100,000,000 a year for repairs to carburetors, fuel pumps and fuel lines damaged by rust and corrosion? It's a fact! Rust cripples 1 car in 4 every year—costs each unlucky owner up to $18 for repairs.

Stop rust... save money and the inconvenience of breakdowns by using Sinclair Anti-Rust Gasoline regularly—so different it's been granted a U. S. Patent. Only Sinclair Gasoline contains the amazing rust inhibitor, RD-119®. Used regularly, it prevents the formation of harmful rust and corrosion.

Start now to use patented Sinclair Anti-Rust Gasoline. You get all the flashing power, long mileage and high anti-knock of modern gasolines. You get Anti-Rust Protection, too—at no extra cost. For top performance, ask your Sinclair Dealer for Sinclair Anti-Rust Ethyl.

Michigan State Stays At Top; So. Cal. Second

NEW YORK (AP) — Michigan State's undefeated football powerhouse, which closed out its season with a whopping 62-13 victory over Marquette Saturday, was voted the nation's No. 1 football team today for the seventh straight week.

Southern California and Georgia Tech, also unbeaten, were second and third in the Associated Press weekly poll of the nation's sports-writers and sportscasters. The 10th and final poll will be conducted next week.

The major change in the top 10 this week was the absence of once-favored Maryland, which dropped with a thud from eighth place to 15th after bowing, 27-7, to Alabama. And Alabama, 14th a week ago, jumped into eighth.

Michigan State polled 88 first-place votes out of 149 cast to roll up 1,400 points.

Southern Cal moved up from fourth last week to second on the basis of its 14-12 victory over UCLA, which sends the Trojans to the Rose Bowl.

Southern Cal had 24 first-place votes and 1,244 points. Georgia Tech was close behind with 1,223 points and 20 firsts.

Points are based on 10 for first, nine for second, etc. down the line.

Tulsa Will Sign To Meet Florida In 'Gator Bowl

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Tulsa University will be signed Friday to meet the University of Florida in the eighth annual Gator Bowl in the eighth annual New Year's Day football game here.

This was announced today by Joe Livingston, member of the selection committee, who said Gator Bowl officials would be in Tulsa Friday night for the official signing. Livingston is sports editor of the Jacksonville Journal.

Tulsa has a season record of six victories, one defeat and one tie. It plays Texas Tech Nov. 29.

1952 All-America OFFENSE

1952 All-America DEFENSE

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor
NEW YORK — Since this department inaugurated the two platoon All-America football team three years ago, it has been said that the supply of players greatly exceeded the demand even with the positions doubled to 22.

If the selectors were naming 222, there wouldn't be enough places to satisfy everybody. The unit plan has swelled the number of college football players to more than 20,000. What we really should do is name kick-off and punting platoons and their receiving counterparts, extra-point men and what-not, the way a lot of coaches employ them. That would make so many more young men happy.

Not a few ask what an All-America proves, but this is for sure—nobody ever will succeed in making it unpopular with the fans. And it is amazing how the electorate agrees on the first team, so here's the 1952 NEA All-America, picked by the country's coaches and sports writers:

OFFENSE
LE—Tom Stohlhans, Texas
LT—Ray Hinzinger, Northwest
LG—Ray Matuszak, Tulsa

Warrensburg Cancels Its Polio Bowl Game

WARRENSBURG, Mo., Nov. 25 (AP) — The Warrensburg Junior Chamber of Commerce has canceled its plans for a polio benefit football game here Thanksgiving Day.

Harry B. Turney, Jr., president, said he was unable to find an opponent to play Ft. Wood's team. Net proceeds of the game would have gone to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Michigan State, Navy, Notre Dame, Princeton, Purdue, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

Athletes must be picked on performance as well as ability. That's why a boy like Harry Agganis of Boston University, though he may very well be the slickest quarterback in the land in the eyes of the most professional scouts, had the opportunity to prove it with a weak supporting cast. Stalwarts like Don McAuliffe, the hardest runner on the mighty Michigan State squad, were aided and abetted by magnificent out-fits and numbers.

In this day of specialists, it is interesting to note that 10 of the 22 first-string men are two-way performers — Catlin, Willhoite, Meilinger, McPhee, Scott, Sears, Lattner, Perry and, at times, Vessels and Tamburo.

Meilinger and Cameron are the only juniors on the first offensive team, Lattner on the defensive side.

Meilinger switched from end to split-T quarterback, and is regarded as the most formidable all-around player in college. The towering Kentuckian deserves special attention for being picked ahead of such tremendous ends as Texas' Tom Stohlhans, UCLA's Ernie Stockert, Pennsylvania's Ed Bell, Notre Dame's Bob O'Neill, not to mention Paul Dekker of Michigan State and some more.

UCLA would have little more than an extraordinary defense without Cameron.

Some may take issue with Olszewski because of California's slump, but the Long Beach, Calif., Pole is just as good a fullback as he was before, possibly the most devastating blocking back in the sport.

Moomaw ordinarily is a line-backer, but the NEA operatives elected him as wide a margin as our line-backers, Tamburo and Morris, so we've placed the UCLA giant at defensive tackle, where he wouldn't exactly crimp any array's style.

Injuries that spelled time out contributed as much as anything else to the fact that such merited combatants as Joe Schmidt, potent Pittsburgh linebacker, and Al Brosky, Illinois safety man, missed first team plagues.

You don't realize just how many good football players there are in the United States until you start picking an All-America.

But careful screening has given NEA one All-America that can eat up a lot of real estate and another thoroughly capable of hanging on to it.

During his famed 56-game hitting streak, Joe DiMaggio belted 43 different pitchers for one or more hits.

Bowl Fever Causes Terps' Downfall

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bowl fever was the cause of it all, says Maryland head coach Jim Tatum in agreeing with its president that poor coaching brought defeat in the once-mighty Terrapins' last two games.

"I'm sorry that I could not be the leader that Dr. Byrd thought I should be," Tatum said at Jacksonville, Fla., last night.

That was his comment on university President H. C. Curly Byrd's criticism of Maryland football coaching "from November on." Tatum said Byrd was "exactly right" and continued:

"For three weeks our team has not been able to do anything right. I spent most of my energy being concerned whether or not we were going to a bowl."

"I didn't think Maryland should go to a bowl as it was against the conference rules. . . . Yet I knew the boys wanted to go and coach I didn't want to be the man to stop them. I'm afraid I spent all my mental energy and a great deal of my time being concerned with this instead of with 'Ole Miss' and Alabama."

Until two weeks ago, the Terrapins' record sparkled — 1952 Sugar Bowl champions, winners of 19 straight games and ranked number two in the nation behind Michigan State, the team it beat three years ago to vault into big time college football.

Then came Waterloo, a double dose: First it was Mississippi 21-14, and last Saturday, Alabama 27-7. Against this backdrop, Dr. Byrd — a former player and a coach — went before the Washington Touchdown Club yesterday for a speech and question-and-answer session.

Byrd not only complained about coaching at Maryland. He also said Coach Tatum talked too much. When asked about Maryland's football chances in 1952, Byrd replied:

"If we get the kind of coaching we did from September to November of this year, we'll be all right. But if we get the kind of coaching we had from November on, when the coaches stopped thinking, I wouldn't be able to answer."

Why every car needs HEET When the Temperature Drops Below 32°

Whenever the temperature drops below 32 degrees, the condensed moisture in every gas tank often forms ice. This causes slow, hard starting and gas-line freeze-ups. HEET is scientifically engineered to absorb moisture in your gas tank. It prevents gas-line freezing, assures easier winter starting. HEET saves battery, reduces ping and knock, keeps fuel system, carburetor and jets clean, improves engine performance.

Do what millions of wise motorists now do. Have your garage or service station add HEET to your gas tank today — and everytime you buy this winter. Only 65¢. HEET Division, DeMert & Dougherty, Inc., Chicago 32.

Big 10 Hands Bowl Ticket To Wisconsin

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—(P)—Wisconsin, ending its role as wallflower of Big Ten football, became the conference choice to face Southern California in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day.

In an unprecedented vote, Big Ten athletic directors selected Wisconsin over Purdue for the Pasadena classic after the two teams finished their regular season Saturday as co-champions.

Wisconsin, winding up with a 21-21 tie against Minnesota, and Purdue, with a closing 21-16 victory over Indiana, each posted league records of winning four games, losing one and tying one. It was the wildest wind up in Big Ten history after a season of tremendous upsets. Four teams were bidding for the title on the final day.

Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson announced Wisconsin as choice of the 10 electors today after tabulating their votes on the basis of "what team best would represent the Big Ten in the Rose Bowl."

The voting margin was not revealed but there was strong speculation that Wisconsin had at least a 7-3 edge.

Wisconsin's co-championship with Purdue was the Badgers' first title taste in 40 years.

"I strongly believe Wisconsin will make a fine showing in the Rose Bowl," said Wilson, when he disclosed that the Badgers won over Purdue by a clear majority. "But I will say that they face the toughest competition in the whole bowl series."

Wisconsin, with an overall season record of 6-2-1 compared to Purdue's 4-3-2, will carry the Big Ten's hope of remaining all-victorious in the Rose Bowl.

In the six games played since the Big Ten-Pacific Coast Conference began the series in 1947, Michigan and Illinois have won twice and Ohio State and Northwestern once each to dominate the rivalry.

Southern California won its Rose Bowl assignment Saturday by defeating U. C. L. A., 14-12. The Trojans will be making their first appearance in the game since absorbing a 49-0 licking by Michigan in 1948.

Jimmie L. Jones Injured On Tractor

Jimmie Lyle Jones, son of James Jones, Nelson, received painful injuries at 10:30 a.m. Saturday when a Farmall tractor he was operating left the road, going down a steep bank and running into another bank just beyond the Blackwater River bridge, south of Nelson.

Mrs. J. O. Younger took him to the E. D. Jeffress home after finding him wandering around dazed. He was later taken to the Fitzgibbon Hospital, Marshall.

GETS ROSE BOWL NOD—Coach Ivy Williamson, left, of the University of Wisconsin, is congratulated by Kenneth "Tug" Wilson, Commissioner of Athletics of the Big Ten, after Wisconsin was selected to play Southern California in the Rose Bowl, January 1. Wisconsin finished the season in a tie with Purdue for the Big Ten title. (NEA TELEPHOTO)

Irish Plan To Dump Rose Bowl Hosts

SOUTH BEND, Ind., (P)—Notre Dame's Fighting Irish, out of contention for top national football honors, are preparing an all out drive Saturday to topple Rose Bowl-bound Southern California from the undefeated ranks and be crowned the country's upset king.

With the traditional contest a sell-out of more than 57,000 fans, officials of both schools have asked the National Collegiate Athletic Association for permission to televise the game nationally or at best on the West Coast and Big Ten areas.

The Army-Navy contest at Philadelphia is scheduled for national viewers Saturday and the NCAA rule permits only one such country-wide TV showing each week.

Notre Dame twice this season has bounced up from the underdog role to knock off previously undefeated powerhouses. The Irish spilled Purdue, Big Ten co-champion, 26-14, and three weeks later pulled one of the biggest surprises of the season with a 27-21 decision over Oklahoma.

Early in the season they upset Texas, the southwest champion and Cotton Bowl host, 14-3, at Austin, Tex.

After Oklahoma, the Irish cooled off somewhat to lose 21-3 to Michigan State, the nation's No. 1 outfit, then last week warmed up for the Trojans with a 27-0 crushing of Iowa.

In all, Notre Dame has six victories, two losses (to Michigan State and Pitt. 22-19) and one tie (7-7 with Penn.) to show for its toughest football schedule in history.

This is the kind of spot the Irish like best, and one in which that old master psychologist, coach Frank Leahy, can kindle his squad with high upset fever.

2 Picks Fill All Vacancies In Bowl Lineup

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—(P)—The lineup for the big post season football games was completed with Wisconsin being named to face Southern California in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1 and Syracuse University picked as a foe for Alabama in Miami's Orange Bowl.

Some four hours separated the final two selections in a day that saw Navy turn down a offer to play in the Orange Bowl. The Naval Academy's players and officials apparently were eager but the Naval Department said "no."

So with Syracuse authorities sitting by their telephones, gnawing fingernails, the important long-distance phone call finally came from Miami shortly before 4 p. m. (CST).

Syracuse, one of the best teams in the East, has won seven games in a representative schedule, losing only to Bowling Air Field and top-ranked Michigan State.

The Big Ten vote favoring Wisconsin was released for noon (CST).

Here is the major bowl picture, with the Southeastern Conference providing half of the teams:

Rose Bowl-Southern California (9-0) vs. Wisconsin (6-2-1).

Sugar Bowl-Georgia Tech (10-0) vs. Mississippi (7-0-2).

Cotton Bowl-Texas (7-2) vs. Tennessee (7-1-1).

Orange Bowl-Alabama (8-2) vs. Syracuse (7-2).

September, also won the MVP award in 1943 and 1946.

How completely Musial has dominated the National League is best illustrated by the MVP figures which show only one other player—Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh—finishing among the top five more than once. The Pirates' home run king placed fourth in 1949 and fifth in '50 for 13 points. As prevails in the MVP voting, 14 points are given for first, nine for second, eight for third, seven for fourth and six for fifth.

Twenty players have finished among the top five National League stars over the last five years. Oddly enough, Hank Sauer, the 1952 winner; Roy Campanella, the '51 winner; Jim Konstanty, the '50 winner; and Jackie Robinson, the '49 winner, did not make the big five in any other year.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Veterans who have deformed noses due to wartime injuries can get a "new look" with the aid of tantalum mesh, a fine metallic screen which can be implanted within the nose to take the place of mangled bone, says a surgeon at the University of California school of medicine.
Dr. Joel Pressman also says that a small sheet of tantalum may be used rather than the mesh. The fibrous tissue tends to form a firm basis for the shape of the nose so that the metal sheet may later be removed.

Russia Bans India's Plan On Korea War

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 25.—Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky rejected Monday as "unsatisfactory and unacceptable" India's compromise plan for ending the Korean War. Secretary of State Acheson replied that the U.S. regards the Indian proposal as "important and statesmanlike" but that there are some drafting changes needed before Washington can accept it completely.

In an obvious attempt to smooth over a serious rift with Britain and India over the much-debated proposal advanced by V. K. Krishna Menon of India, Acheson told the U. N. Political Committee that there is a "wide area of agreement" on what needs to be done in Korea.

He outlined some points on which the U. S. asked clarification and then said:

"We all want the same thing. If those difficulties are met, my government will support the Indian resolution and will loyally and faithfully attempt to carry it out."

The Indian resolution was backed strongly by British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, who refused over the week-end to accept some changes asked by the U. S.

Says Commies Tricked Into Registrations

NEW YORK (P)—A federal panel, say attorneys for the Communist Party, used lies and "unfounded inferences and innuendoes" in a move to force party members to register with the Justice Department.

The allegation was made in a brief filed yesterday with the Subversives Control Board in Washington. It was released here by one of the attorneys, former Rep. Vito Marcantonio.

It was described as a first step in a party countermove to upset the McCarran Internal Securities Act, which the Communists de-nounced as "lawless and unconstitutional."

Under the act, the party also could be forced to list its financial and personal records with the government.

The brief filed yesterday accused a two-man panel of the Subversives Control Board, set up under the act, of violating rules of evidence during a 14-month series of hearings on the Communist Party.

New hearings were asked in the brief. Another demand was for disqualification of the board chairman, Peter Campbell Brown, also a member of the panel.

The panel last Oct. 20 called the party a "Communist action" group under Moscow's control. The panel recommended that the board approve this finding.

The board would have to do so before party members could be compelled to register under the McCarran Act. However, it was not free to act until attorneys for the party filed a challenge or until 60 days elapsed. The brief filed yesterday represented that challenge.

Presumably, the issue will reach the Supreme Court before it is resolved.

100 Deaths on Roads Of Southeast Missouri

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo. (P)—Two separate auto deaths have pushed the year's highway fatality total to 100 in 10 Southeast Missouri counties.

The latest additions to the Missouri Highway Patrol count were Hubert Earl Phillips, 16, of Rt. 1, Essex, Mo., and Cicero Poor, 55-year-old Negro. Both deaths occurred Sunday near Sikeston.

The World Today— Ike-Taft In Crystal Ball

WASHINGTON (P)—There will be plenty of crystal-balling between now and January, when the new Republican administration comes in, about future relations between President Eisenhower and Sen. Taft.

But the test won't come until Congress settles down to work. Eisenhower starts sending up his programs for approval, and Taft begins to demonstrate what he thinks of them and what he wants to do with them.

In the foreign field, for instance, Taft has said the differences between his views and Eisenhower's are only matters of degree.

U.S. Develops 'Breeding' Plan For A-Weapons

CHICAGO (P)—The chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission said today that preliminary tests give "very favorable" promise that the U. S. has successfully developed a "breeding" process to swell its supplies of atomic fuel or explosives many times over.

The commission head, Gordon Dean, made the statement in an interview published in the Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists.

Scientists have been operating a breeder reactor for several months at the commission's testing station at Arco, Ida. The reactor converts non-fissionable uranium into "hot" plutonium. Plutonium can be used for atomic power or as the explosive material in one type of a bomb.

Dean said: "The experimental breeder reactor is now in operation, and we have yet to run across anything that would suggest to us that our attack on this won't be successful. I think it is fair to say that preliminary results seem to bear very favorably upon the future of breeding."

Dean said the breeding process, if successful, "will increase our reservoir of fissionable materials manifold."

He said the chemical aspects of recovering the plutonium from the reactor or pile have been licked "in principle" but "certainly not from the economic point of view."

In theory, a breeder reactor produces energy but in the process creates more atomic fuel than it burns up.

But, depending on the viewpoint, those differences might seem as wide as the sea. For example, Taft opposed the Atlantic pact which Eisenhower endorsed so fully that he went back overseas to make it work.

That same degree of difference between the two men on some future important program may appear to others, if not to Taft, to be a basic difference between Eisenhower's ideas and his.

If the other Republican senators formerly name Taft their floor leader—a job he's held for the past four years without the title—he'll get a chance to settle his disagreements with the President before they reach the senate.

As Republican leader, he would be called regularly to White House conferences on legislation which Eisenhower wanted to push through Congress. So the two men could argue in the privacy of the White House.

If Taft lost out there, he'd still be in a key position in the Senate to make his ideas prevail. Since Taft seems able to get the Senate leadership without much trouble, Eisenhower will have to reckon with him.

More Security After Accused Murderer Attempts Suicide

GREENVILLE, Mo. (P)—Increased security has been imposed on the Wayne County Jail where Fred H. Miller, a 28-year-old ex-convict, awaits trial tomorrow in the slaying of Mrs. Rose Marie Brand.

County officials said the action came after Miller slashed his wrist with a razor in his cell last Saturday. He was treated at a Poplar Bluff hospital.

Miller is charged with first degree murder in the fatal beating of Mrs. Brand at her Piedmont home last Oct. 24. Wayne County Sheriff Wilson Penturff said Miller has admitted stabbing Mrs. Brand with a pair of scissors and beating her with a hammer.

St. Louis police said Miller also has admitted the fatal shooting of George Satica, St. Louis confectionary owner, during a quarrel over a bet on Oct. 18.

Frank Secory, new umpire in the National League, was an outfielder for Detroit, Cincinnati and Chicago, appearing with the Cubs in the 1945 World Series.

Local Man Stabbed In Family Dispute

Bob Mabry, 508 West 22nd, was stabbed in the chest about 1:30 a. m. Sunday at Bessie's Tavern in Florence, Mo.

Mabry was stabbed by a man, whom he identified as his uncle, Ted Mabry, of Cole Camp, resulting from what Mabry said was a family dispute.

Ted Mabry was picked up by Sheriff Corrie Woods of Morgan county and taken to Versailles.

Bob Mabry was taken to the Bothwell Hospital in the Stevenson ambulance from Stover. He was treated at the hospital by Dr. J. M. Rodeman. He later was released from the hospital.
